Howdy Aggies!

Fall is fast approaching, but the Texas heat in Aggieland will be here for a little while longer. Highs are expected to stay in the 90s from September into early October with only five projected rainy days for the month. So come chill with us and stop by the BLCC for an air conditioning break.

National Tailgating Day

National Tailgating Day is coming up on September 3rd, along with the beginning of the football season. With the return of students on campus and the world opening back up, the market has been booming. Companies like Revel have met with incredible success in the market, with sold out tailgate packages on TAMU campus multiple times.

Forbes details "Its turnkey tailgates include reserved tailgates in premium game day locations, tents, tables, chairs, coolers, food from local favorites and beverage services, satellite TVs, reserved parking and day-of bellhops to help carry any additional needs. They accommodate groups as small as five fans up to 1,000."* Keep an eye out for their promotions this year before they get sold out!
