

UPDATES IN PROGRESS FOR ISO 13709/API 610
CENTRIFUGAL PUMPS FOR PETROLEUM, PETROCHEMICAL, AND NATURAL GAS INDUSTRIES

by Roger Jones
Consultant
Spring, Texas

Roger L. Jones is a Consultant, in Spring, Texas. He was formerly Business Team Manager for Rotating Equipment with Shell Global Solutions (US) Ltd., in Houston, Texas. He and his staff provided consultation to both new projects and to all Shell manufacturing facilities in North America across the entire spectrum of rotating equipment issues. Prior to that, he held technical and management assignments at Shell's Deer Park Chemical Plant and Refinery, mainly in the areas of rotating equipment field support, engineering, and construction.

Mr. Jones received his B.S. and M.S. degrees (Mechanical Engineering) from Kansas State University, and he is a registered Professional Engineer in the State of Texas. Mr. Jones represented his company as the Chairman on the API Subcommittee for Mechanical Equipment, Chairman of API 610 (Centrifugal Pumps) Task Force, and Convenor of ISO 13709. He is a former member of the International Pump Users Symposium Advisory Committee.

This paper was not available in time to be published.

