From the editor

This issue ends our 4th year of publication. We have distributed nearly 5,000 copies of each issue, mainly through direct mail to Black studies programs and conferences. The Afro Scholar is the only quarterly source for a comprehensive conference schedule and current publications list (books and articles) in Black studies. The Afro Scholar is an essential reference tool for students and scholars in Black studies.

WE NEED MORE SUPPORT!

We need more subscriptions from our current users, especially scholars and advanced students. We will keep our individual subscription rate at $10., which comes to less than 2 cents per reference. However, without sufficient support we will have to increase rates or suspend publication. This is a cooperative effort by Black studies professionals without foundation support. Our users are the basis for the survival of Afro Scholar - without you we will cease to exist.

CALLING ALL AFRO-AMERICAN BIBLIOGRAPHERS!

We need your institutional subscription. We are a useful tool with a four year track record, and a consistent performance of professional quality. There is no better single source of new titles on the Black experience, and we need you as much as you need us. In October, 1986 our institutional rates will increase to $25.00. SUBSCRIBE TODAY!
